- Supporting Your Child

What is MAP Growth?

MAP Growth is a computer adaptive test created by NWEA that students take 3 times per year. The results provide teachers with information to help them deliver appropriate content for each student and determine each student's academic growth over time.

What does MAP measure?	What does it mean to be computer adaptive?	What is a RIT score?
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• MAP growth measures what students know, regardless of their grade level.• It also measures growth over time, allowing us to track a student's progress throughout the school year and across multiple years.	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Computer adaptive tests adjust to each student's learning level, providing a unique set of test questions based on their responses to previous questions.• As the student responds to questions, the test responds to the student, adjusting up or down in difficulty.	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• After each MAP Growth test, results are delivered in the form of a RIT score that reflects the student's academic knowledge, skills, and abilities.• Think of this score like marking height on a growth chart.• You can tell how tall your child is at various points in time and how much they have grown between one stage and another.

Importance of a Growth Mindset

Fixed Mindset

Views academic success as inherently stable and unchangeable over time.

Growth Mindset

Views intelligence, abilities, and talents as learnable and capable of improvement through effort.

MAP Growth and Teaching & Learning in the Medford Public Schools is based on a Growth Mindset.

MAP Growth Tests

What types of questions are on the MAP Growth tests?

- The MAP Growth tests include multiple choice, drag-and-drop, and other types of questions. For examples, click on the link to access MAP practice tests.

MAP Growth Scores

How do schools and teachers use MAP Growth scores?	Can MAP growth tell me if my student is working at grade level?
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Teachers use the score to inform instruction, personalize learning, and monitor the growth of individual students.	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Yes, but please note that MAP Growth scores are just one data point that teachers use to determine how a child is performing.
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Principals and district administrators use the scores to see if the performance and progress of a grade level, school, or the entire district.	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Please discuss any questions that you have about your child's performance with their teacher.

MAP Test Results

How will I receive my child's MAP growth scores?	How do I use my student's MAP test results to improve my child's academic performance?	Who do I contact with specific questions?
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• The Family Report will be sent home at each report card period throughout the school year.• At the elementary level, they will be discussed during the parent/teacher conferences.	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Ask your child's teacher about how you can collaborate to achieve your child's academic goals.	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• If you have questions, start with your child's teacher. If you have need further assistance you should reach out to the school principal.

Sample Family Report

What is this report?

A summary of how your child is performing academically, as measured by the most recent MAP® Growth™ test.

What is MAP Growth?

A test that adapts to your child's responses to measure your child's skill level.

Why is my child taking MAP Growth?

MAP Growth scores help teachers check student performance by measuring achievement and growth. Teachers use results to tailor classroom lessons and set goals for students.

What do achievement and growth mean?

Achievement: How well your child has learned skills in a subject compared to similar students nationwide.*

Growth: A measure of your child's personal progress over the year.

What is a RIT score?

The overall score for a subject based on a Rasch unit (RIT) scale that indicates how your child performed in a subject.

*Similar students: Kids with the same starting RIT score, same number of weeks of instruction, and in the same grade.

How can I use this information to help my child?

Talk to your child's teacher. Here are some questions you can ask:

- + What types of strategies are the teachers using that I may be able to reinforce at home?
- + Does my child need extra help in any specific areas?
- + How can I help my child's academic growth at home?
- + How do you measure my child's learning in your classroom?
- + When will my child's progress be measured again, and when can I get an update on my child's academic growth? How is my child doing in comparison to grade-level expectations?
- + What will my child be working on to continue growing or grow towards a mastery of grade-level standards?
